WINE
OUR ETHOS

The journey through the rich and diverse regions of Italy is the core of our wine list, taking you from Valle d'Aosta to Calabria then moving on to the Islands. We select our wines from small, artisan producers who practice sustainable agriculture with low or zero intervention, and respect for the land with the aim to obtain the best possible expression of each region's unique grape variety and terroir; while preserving the traditions and heritage of Italian wine making. We are committed to sharing our passion for these exceptional wines with you, and we hope that every sip will transport you on a journey of discovery and delight.
Cheers!

LOMBARDIA
Lombardy's Franciacorta region is celebrated for its sparkling wine, produced using the traditional method used in Champagne. The region's wines are characterized by a rich and complex flavor profile, making them a must-try for any wine enthusiast.

VENETO
It is home to Prosecco, a sparkling wine made from Glera grapes, that it is typically light, fruity, and refreshing.

EMILIA ROMAGNA
Lambrusco di Sorbara "Radice Paltrineri" is a very unique one. Made with the ancestral method, and a low maceration on the skin that makes it a Rosè, it is fresh, mineral and perfect with seafood.

SPARKLING

Skin contact wine is a type of white wine where the grape skins are left in contact with the juice during fermentation. This process can last from a few hours to several months, resulting in a range of colors from golden-straw yellow to deep amber or orange.

These wines can offer a broad spectrum of flavours and aromas, including apricot, peach, honey, ginger, orange peel, chamomile, jasmine, and baking spices.

Skin contact wines are known for their versatility and complexity. They can range from delicate and fruity to more oxidized, or robust with notable body and tannins.

LE MARCHE

Marche, on Italy's eastern coast, is known for its Verdicchio and Montepulciano-based wines. With a diverse terroir influenced by the Apennines, the Adriatic, and local rivers, the region produces wines with a balance of freshness and complexity. Verdicchio shines in its DOCG appellations of Castelli di Jesi and Matelica, while Montepulciano and Sangiovese dominate the reds, including the notable Conero DOCG.

LAZIO

Lazio, home to Rome, boasts a rich winemaking heritage with volcanic soils that impart bright acidity and minerality. The region is best known for its fresh, crisp white wines, particularly those made from native grapes like Bellone. In recent years, Lazio's red wines, including Sangiovese, Cesanese, and Montepulciano, have also gained acclaim for their depth and distinctive character

TRENTINO - ALTO ADIGE

Possibly the most beautiful wine region in the world, Alto Adige (aka Südtirol), is where North meets South; in terms of climate, culture, and wine. Eventhough it is one of Italy's smallest winegrowing regions, thanks to its geographical position, it is also one of the most multifaceted. What emerges here are not trendy wines, but rather authentic wines with their own original character. The higher altitudes result in moderate vine growth, a longer maturation period and lower yields. This in turn leads to high levels of concentration in the grapes.

ALTO ADIGE

VENETO
In Veneto, the indigenous red grapes Corvina, Molinara, and Rondinella have a long tradition and are used to produce Valpolicella, Ripasso, and Amarone wines. Amarone is a dense, rich wine made from air-dried, resonated grapes. In addition to reds, you can find amazing, refreshing, aromatic whites and of course, Prosecco, one of the most beloved aperitivos.

FRIULI
Friuli is a unique wine region located between Veneto, Slovenia, and southern Austria. Its two main sub-regions, Collio and Colli orientali del Friuli, produce light, aromatic wines. Friuli is also known for being the birthplace of skin contact technique, producing darker and more complex wines.

SARDEGNA

As the Sardinian saying goes, "When the wind comes from the sea, you can hear voices of strangers, but they are voices that pass." This captures the spirit of the island, where the local culture has been shaped by a rich history of outside influences, including in wine-making. The Phoenicians were the first to bring wine to the island, and today, Sardegna is home to a variety of grape varieties and wine styles. From the crisp Vermentino of the north to the robust Cannonau of the south, each wine reflects the unique terroir and spirit of the island.

SICILIA

The history of Sicilian wine runs deep, with evidence of winemaking dating back to Mycenaean traders in 1500 BC. Legend has it that Dionysus himself brought wine and joy to the island, but even without the myth, it's clear that winemaking is an integral part of Sicilian culture. When the Greeks settled in Sicilia in the 8th century, they brought with them their love for "oinos" (wine), introducing different grape varieties to the island. Today, Sicilian wines are known for their bold flavours, unique grape varieties, and rich history that is sure to transport you back in time with every sip.
