Corporate Hospitality

Yorkshire Heritage. Unforgettable Experiences.

WELCOME

Welcome to Birdsall

Nestled in the rolling Yorkshire Wolds, Birdsall House is part of a privately owned estate and home to the Willoughby family for over five centuries. Steeped in history yet alive with contemporary style, it opens its doors for corporate occasions that marry heritage with exceptional modern hospitality.

From high-profile product launches and inspiring away days to prestigious AGMs and intimate client dinners, every event is afforded exclusive use, meticulous attention to detail and a level of service that is both discreet and flawless.

Elegant state rooms, adaptable contemporary spaces and acres of landscaped parkland create a backdrop of rare beauty. Here, moments are crafted to inspire, settings are designed to impress, and guests depart with memories that endure long after the day is done.

An Exclusive Estate for Inspired Gatherings

Why Birdsall for Corporate Events?

Exclusive Use - At Birdsall, your event is the only event. Complete privacy and discretion allow our dedicated team to focus entirely on creating a seamless and memorable experience for you and your guests.

Heritage Setting - Set within an elegant Georgian house, our historic rooms and original architectural features provide a backdrop of timeless distinction. As a much-loved family home, Birdsall combines heritage grandeur with genuine warmth and an instinctive can-do spirit.

The Old Kitchens

Evening Transformation

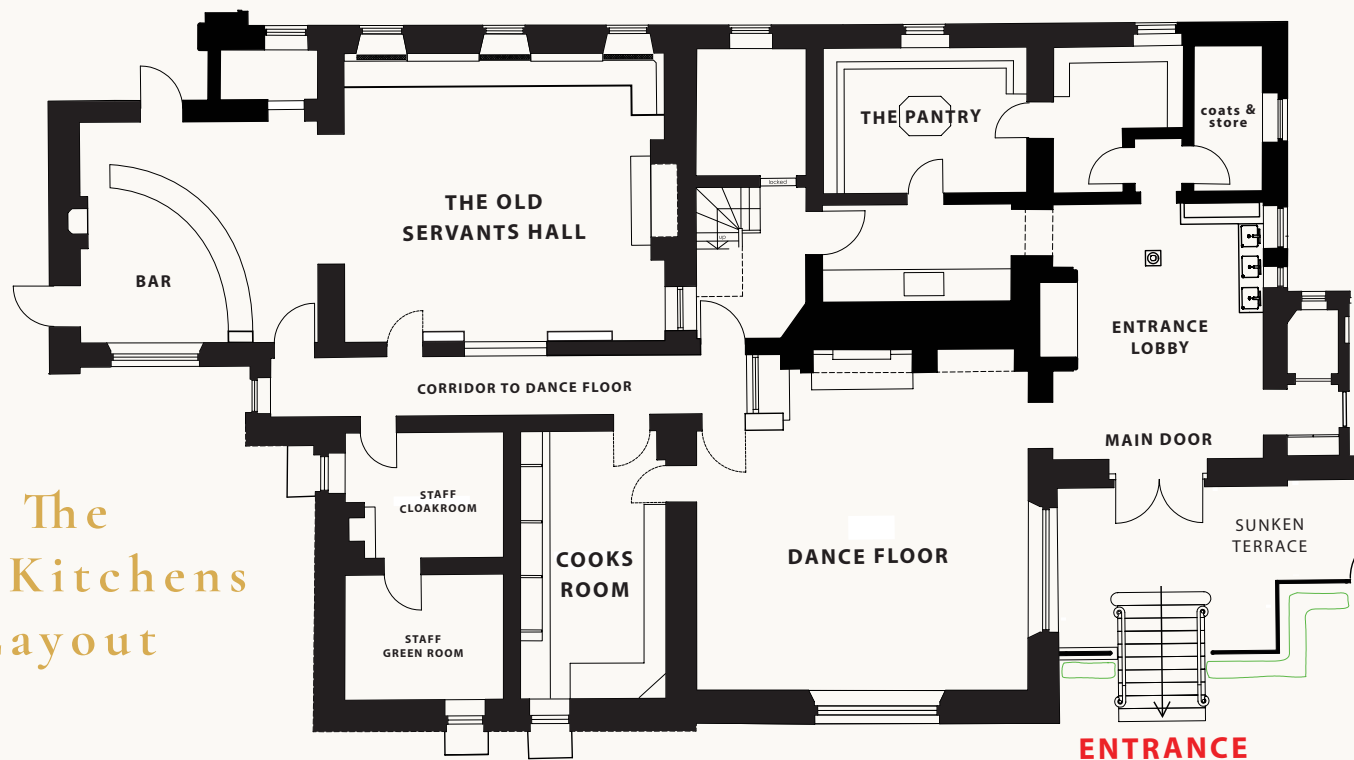

Beneath the main house lies The Old Kitchens, once the bustling Victorian kitchens of the house and now transformed into a 1920s-inspired speakeasy cocktail bar and complex of rooms. Many of the original fixtures and fittings remain and with a sensitive recent restoration and atmospheric lighting the venue creates an unforgettable backdrop for corporate entertaining. Perfect for product launches, corporate presentations, client receptions or after-dinner celebrations, the unique space offers a stylish bar, members club style seating, a pantry for evening grazing food and a dance floor for live music or DJs.

Exclusive hire ensures privacy, while our team curates every detail from cocktails to the choice of band. The Old Kitchens brings an element of surprise and glamour to your event, leaving guests with a lasting impression of creativity and distinction.

The Servants Hall & Bar

Once the original Servants' Hall of the house, this space has been reimagined as a refined seating area with soft sofas and the relaxed atmosphere of a private members' club. Positioned adjacent to the bar yet retaining its own identity, it provides an inviting setting for guests to gather, network or enjoy informal conversations. The room is also well suited to presentations and showcases, supported by discreetly integrated AV facilities for slides, films or branding displays.

Room Capacity: 100+ in a mix of standing and seated

The Cooks Room

Originally the office for the head cook the room is now a cosy room for break away conversations or somewhere to hold an activity for guests.

The Pantry

The Pantry serves as a flexible catering room for events. From coffee stations and grazing tables to bowl food and late-night snacks, it provides the perfect space to keep guests refreshed. Our team will work with you to create the right food offering for your occasion..

The Dance Floor

Designed for maximum flexibility, this space is fully equipped with high-spec sound and lighting, allowing it to transform seamlessly from a conference set-up to a vibrant networking area or a full dance floor. Configurations range from round tables or theatre-style seating to open plan for evening entertainment. Whether you envision a DJ or a live band, our trusted network of suppliers ensures every event is delivered with impact.

Overnight Accommodation

Within Birdsall House we can offer nine exquisitely restored historic bedrooms, each with its own distinctive charm and character. Elegantly appointed and all ensuite, they provide a haven of comfort for intimate groups staying on site or for VIP guests within a larger party. Staying overnight ensures multi-day events flow seamlessly, with every element unfolding in one exclusive setting.

For extended gatherings, we recommend the magnificent Langton Hall, just two miles from Birdsall. This beautifully renovated country house offers self-catering accommodation for up to 50 guests across its main house and a collection of characterful cottages. With two swimming pools, a private gym and generous entertaining spaces, it provides both indulgence and flexibility. Our team can arrange fine dining or casual catering for all guests, along with discreet, efficient transport between Langton Hall and Birdsall, creating a flawless and memorable experience from morning until night.
