BLUEBIRD COMES TO WHITE CITY

Housed in the vibrant Television Centre and just a stone's-throw from the BBC building, this Bluebird serves up tasty and modern British cuisine with flavour being the prime focus. With a cosy and heated outdoor terrace, it is just the perfect spot for a lunch after shopping or for a warm (or chilled!) cocktail after work.

Taking the stylish and familiar charm of the café at the original Bluebird – a Chelsea landmark on the Kings Road for 20 years – the new sister will bring a chic and versatile layout, making it the ideal option for gatherings with the family or impressing clients and colleagues, whether for a meal or for drinks and packed-with-flavour snacks.
