Tara and the Team at Linden House were incredible from day 1 - my husband and I felt so at home here, and couldn't be happier that we chose Linden House to host both our ceremony & reception!

Not only did they provide excellent, professional service on the day, Tara gave us lots of advice leading up to the day as well to ensure we didn't miss any details. Plus, it's location along the river is stunning, our friends told us our wedding was a 'quintessential London wedding'.

We wish we could have another wedding here ASAP!

FAQ'S

For your wedding you have access from 9am on the day of your event. If you need additional time, please speak to the Events Coordinator.

Do we have to use your caterers?

Yes please. All catering is done internally through our Executive Head Chef and his team.

Can you offer a bespoke menu?

Yes, the chefs are more than happy to discuss bespoke menus. Please send through any requests to the Events Coordinator and we can design a bespoke menu just for you.

Do we get a tasting?

We don't tend to arrange tastings as we believe that our reputation for really great food is enough. If, however, you would like to arrange a tasting this can most certainly be arranged. Please be advised there will be a charge depending on the tasting menu requested.

Do you provide a wedding coordinator on the day?

We like to ensure that our Events Coordinator and Operations Team have chatted to you at your meetings prior to your big day so that a team of familiar faces will be there to run your event on the day.

Do you charge corkage?

We have a really yummy selection of wines and can source even more through our wide array of suppliers. Should you still wish to bring your own please be advised that we charge £10 per bottle for Still Wine and £15 per bottle for Sparkling Wine.

Do you charge cakeage?

Now why would we do that?! We love cake!

Do you have suppliers we have to use?

We have a range of preferred suppliers, but these are just recommendations, you are welcome to bring your own suppliers. All we ask is that you put us in touch with your preferred suppliers so we can ensure everything runs seamlessly on the day.

Most certainly.

Yes, candles can be used inside or outside our venues. All candles must be in a jar or vessel which is higher than the tip of the flame.

We have a rather busy events programme and very limited storage so please speak to your Events Coordinator and we'll do our utmost to assist you. All deliveries need to arrive during venue access times unless previously arranged.

Linden House has ground floor step free venue access and one wheelchair accessible toilet. Please inform the Events Coordinator prior to the big day as the Events Team will need to arrange ground floor access through the rear of the venue.

Are there any sound restrictions at the venue?

Linden House is located in a residential area and as such we are very conscious of ensuring our neighbours are not disturbed by our Events. We would like for your guests to listen to levels of music that won't cause permanent ear damage and as such we reserve the right to lower the volume if we feel that the levels are above acceptable. We allow DJs, live bands and we also have a large speaker which a phone, laptop or tablet can be plugged into.

LINDEN HOUSE
RIVERSIDE

A BRIEF HISTORY

A Long long time ago the area surrounding Linden House was known as Seagreens. Over time the land was divided into various estates and dwellings such as Seagreens, Upper Mall House, Linden House and Grafton House were built. The most famous owner of Seagreens was Louis Weltje, the continental head cook to the Prince of Wales.

Although the exact date of the construction of Linden House may never be known, it is first recorded as a named dwelling in 1795. Anecdotal evidence suggests that a Dutch merchant named Isaac le Gooch may have built Linden House as early as 1685 and although Linden House was used as a private dwelling for much of the 18th and 19th century the Victorian era brought major changes to the area.

Currently used as a sailing and rowing clubhouse, Linden House was purchased in 2001 by the London Corinthian Trust, a registered charity.

The main objectives for the charity are to promote water sports on the Thames and to maintain this stunning landmark. All revenue from your wedding directly funds the objectives of the charity and directly contribute to the maintenance of Linden House. Huge thanks to you!
