The House

Old Sessions House offers a very special opportunity for an occupier to be truly inspired by their surroundings, with special views over Clerkenwell Green. There is 18843 square feet of rejuvenated space available in this unique former courthouse, which dominates Clerkenwell Green on an island site. The building has undergone a full, sympathetic refurbishment to provide one of central London's truly rare opportunities.

Since the building's completion a wide range of events have also been held on site from photoshoots to fashion shows, brand activations, weddings and parties to name a few.
