ABOUT SOMERLEY

Somerley is an exquisite English Country House available for hire as a filming location in a beautiful rural setting.

Designed by Samuel Wyatt in 1750, Somerley has been in the Normanton family for six generations. The House and its Gardens sit high up, overlooking hundreds of acres of parkland. Winding its way through this beautiful parkland is the well-known River Avon which stretches the full length of the 7,000-acre Estate.

Somerley provides an intimate and elegant location with the welcoming embrace of a family home. The House has nine spacious and individually styled bedrooms. There is plenty of complimentary on site parking for cast, crew and large unit bases. Available for filming on a short and long term basis and is close to local accommodation.

Location

90 mins from London, 20 minutes from Bournemouth, 25 minutes from Salisbury and
25 minutes from Southampton.

Close to M27 and M3

THE COLONNADE & SOMERLEY HOUSE GARDEN

Bridge the gap between the splendour of indoors and the rolling green of the Somerley Estate with the Colonnade and East Terrace.

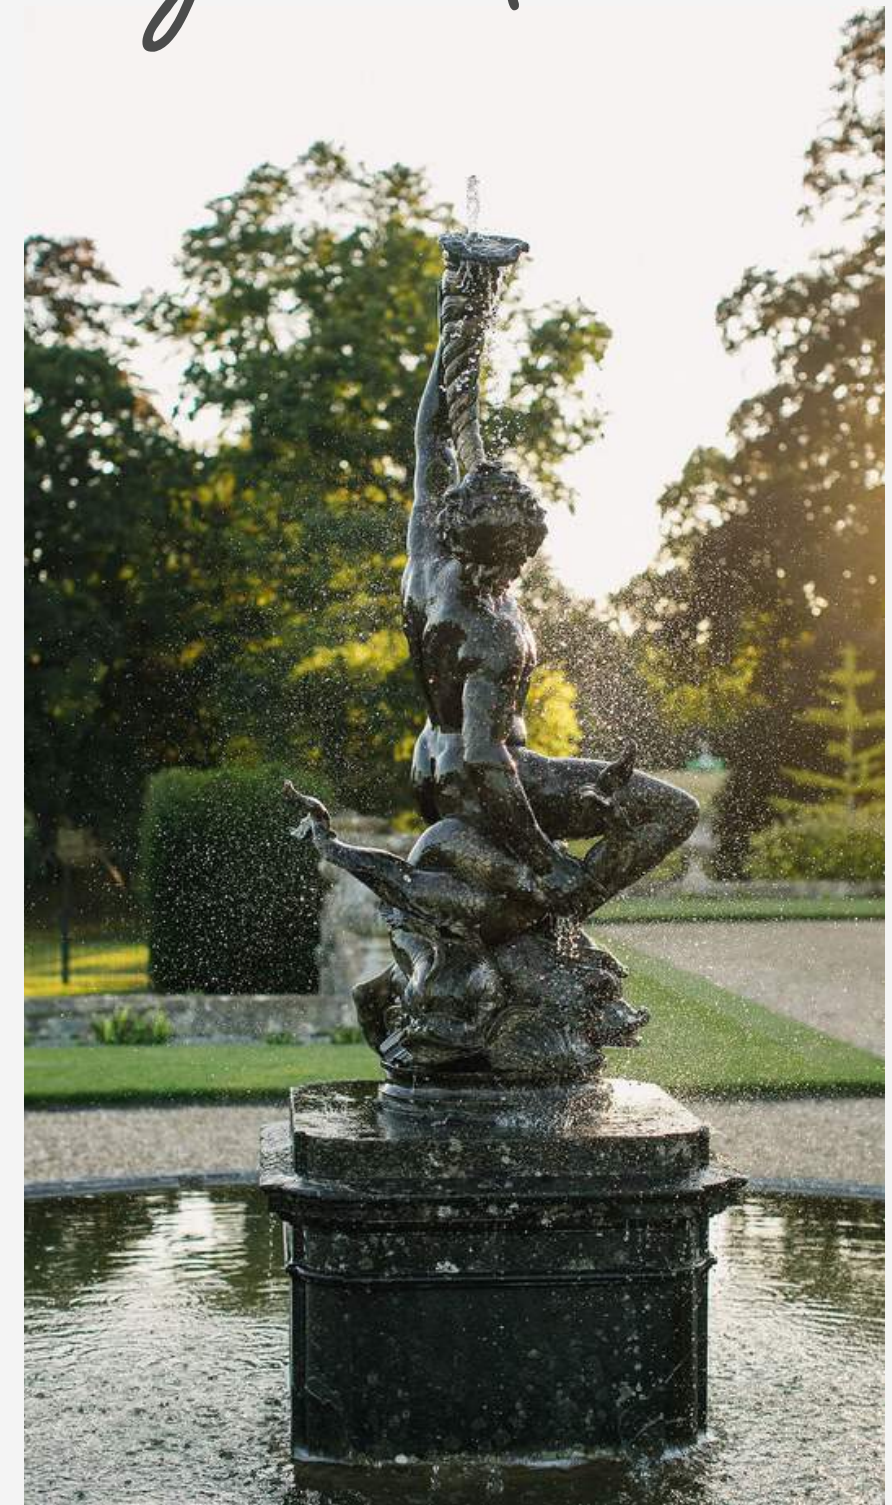

Outside of the immediate House Gardens are a variety of different areas, including a Walled Garden, Acres of rolling parkland and ancient woodlands to host a plethora of events.

THE EAST & WEST LIBRARY

The East and West Libraries interconnect through secret double doors disguised as impressive antique bookcases. The East Library also connects with The Drawing Room, offering a much larger space for guests to enjoy, whether it be entertaining or for smaller corporate break out groups.

THE DRAWING ROOM & PICTURE GALLERY

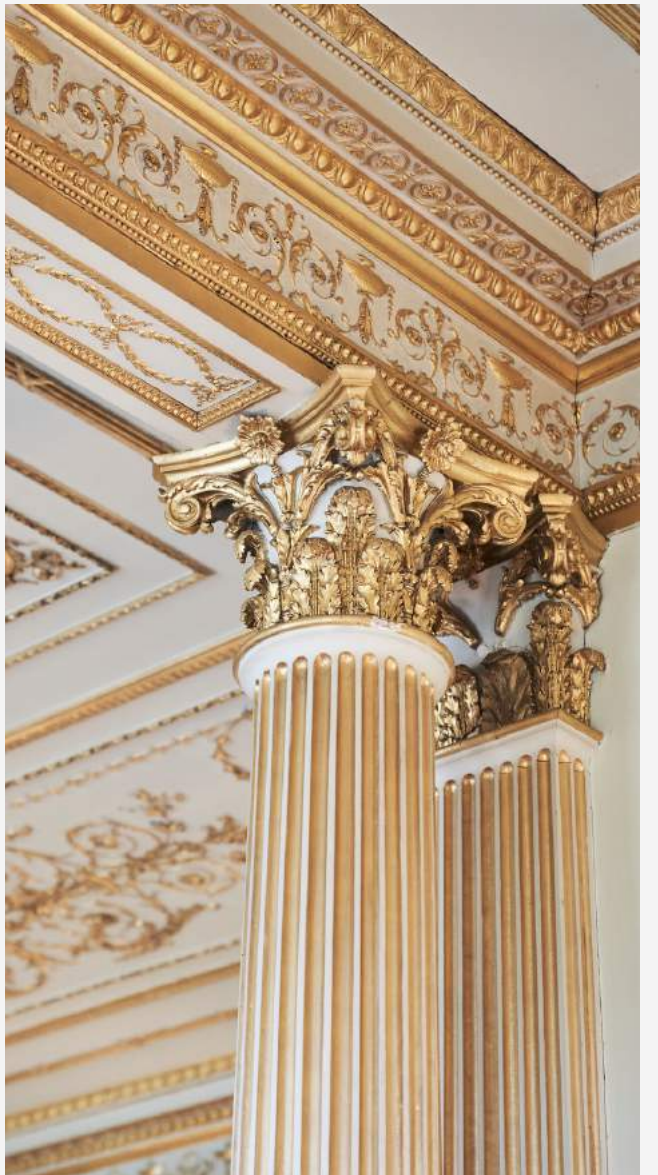

The ornate Drawing Room and its even more impressive counterpart, the Picture Gallery are state rooms that really set Somerley apart from other venues. In theatre style seating we can comfortably accommodate 160 people within our Picture Gallery.

Steeped in history and adorned with inspiring works of art, these breath-taking rooms would be the perfect backdrop to any grand finale.
