

Join the in-the-know crowd at Mayfair's most sophisticated bar and explore something different from our cocktail list. Created by myself, Salvatore Calabrese; your hosts, Maurizio Palermo and Federico Pavan, and our team of talented bartenders.

Salute!

Self-portrait by Terence Donovan 1996

“Fashion photography is an act of theatre”

For over four decades, the leading fashion and portrait photographer Terence Donovan's lens focussed on politicians, princesses and punks. His art has graced the covers of every major magazine; irreverent and sensual, free-spirited and perfectly in tune with his time – much like the namesake bar we have created in his honour.

London has always attracted talent; world leaders, rogues and starlets, drawn to its flame and inspired by the city's boundless energy. Since the dawn of the Victorian age, Brown's has had a siren call for the bold, the maverick and the beautiful. Legends such as Oscar Wilde, Laurence Olivier and Agatha Christie have become immortal; their legacies living on in our Once Upon a Time cocktail menu.

In honour of our 185th anniversary, our “Maestro” Salvatore Calabrese has distilled personalities and memorable moments into a menu that conjures up the magnetic aura of Brown's, celebrating the revolving door of iconic figures that have been connected to the hotel. Join us on a magic carpet ride through the many shooting stars that have graced our front door, from the worlds of stage, screen, music, art and literature.

Salvatore Calabrese

“God took six days to create the Earth; it took me five to create the perfect Martini”

Salvatore Calabrese has been curating drinks for more than 40 years and is regarded as one of the most influential figures in the modern drinks industry. A collector of rare spirits, Calabrese wrote the bestseller Cognac: A Liquid History.

In his lovingly crafted menu, Once Upon a Time, you will find an innovative selection of signature drinks. Sample some of the world's rarest spirits, selected from Calabrese's personal collection, or discover a classic cocktail made using the authentic ingredients and methods of its era – a unique sensory experience.

AUTHORS

Fresh and vibrant

Wilde Nights £22

'Alas, I am dying beyond my means' quipped Oscar Wilde, as he sipped Champagne on his deathbed. This beguiling cocktail, laced with Irish whiskey and a spray of absinthe, is served in an Art Deco glass. It's perfect for some Wilde-in-exile decadence.

Black Bush Irish whiskey, green Chartreuse, apple vermouth, spray of absinthe, Acqua Bianca, splash of Ruinart Brut Champagne.

Trust In Me £21

Swing into the spirit of the tropics with this cocktail inspired by The Jungle Book, reputedly penned at Brown's by Rudyard Kipling. Let the fresh kick of pine liqueur and edible flowers transport you to a tropical rainforest.

Pisco, Pino Mugo, pineapple and green cardamom marmalade, lime juice, London Essence roasted pineapple soda.

The Honey Bear £20

In the wise words of AA Milne's character Eeyore, 'It never hurts to keep looking for sunshine.' This sunshine-filled bear hug of a cocktail has honey notes in a homage to Winnie-the-Pooh as Milne was a regular at Brown's.

Campari, rhubarb cordial, Sassy Cidre Brut, honey.

From Mayfair With Love £22

Kingsley Amis, author of James Bond novel, Colonel Sun, was a Brown's aficionado. An ode to a Vesper Martini, 007 has come to Mayfair with this sun-drenched cocktail. The garnish is a surprising secret awaiting to be discovered.

Grey Goose vodka re-distilled with calendula, Bombay premier cru gin, white wine reduction, spray of black olive leaf tea.

The Elementary £13

This old-fashioned smoky virgin drink has an energising shot of tea, making it as mercurial as the swish of Sherlock's cape in the London moonlight. It is inspired by Sherlock's creator, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, and his family, who were loyal to Brown's.

Feragaia alcohol-free spirit, simple syrup, lemon juice.

Kingsley Amis, Man About Town, 1960

ACTORS & MUSICIANS

Multi-instrumentalist Roland Kirk, 1963

Warm and spicy

Death By Tequila £21

Screen icon Peter Cushing adored Brown's as much as his on-screen wife Marguerite. This lusty twist on the classic cocktail zings with Maestro Dobel Diamante tequila and fresh lime juice infused with spice; its rim adorned with Himalayan salt.

Maestro Dobel Diamante tequila, green pepper and coriander shrubs, lime juice, Italicus liqueur, green tangerine aroma.

Or Wells That End Wells £20

Heaven may well be a white negroni – rare and refined, much like Orson Welles himself – often called the greatest filmmaker of all time. Celebrate the stylish sixties with this spirited take of Welles' time at the hotel.

Re-distilled Campari, dry vermouth, Everleaf Marine, orange bitter.

Reed Between The Lines £21

Embrace your alter-naughty ego with this feisty cocktail inspired by the life of actor Oliver Reed. Of course, it is whisky-based and belligerent but also smoothly playful in honour of its mischievous namesake.

Dewar's Illegal smooth whisky fat washed with salty butter, barley wine reduction, lemon juice, Bénédictine, Angostura bitters.

The Interval £22

This spice-infused cocktail, with hints of Venetian decadence, is inspired by Sir Laurence Olivier. In the words of the late 'king of the stage' it will have you 'soaring away with head tilted slightly toward the gods, feeding on the caviar of Shakespeare.'

Flor de Caña 12 yrs rum, Theoria Cuir Lointain, lemon juice, Earl Grey and vanilla tea syrup.

The Substitute £13

A mocktail with a rock 'n' roll kick. This Seedlip Garden refresher entices you with its gingery essence and sultry dry finish. The perfect homage to the famously sober, yet always colourful, singer Pete Townsend.

Seedlip Garden, orange juice, lemon juice, turmeric, London Essence ginger beer.

Actor Sean Connery, 1962

ICONIC PEOPLE

Diverse and unusual

The Winston £25

Named in honour of our greatest leader, Winston Churchill, who also loved the bar at Brown's. Theatrically served in a bubble-shaped glass, this 'British bulldog' whisky cocktail has complex undertones of mandarin and eucalyptus with a swirl of cigar in his honour.

The Dalmore whisky 12 yrs, mandarin liqueur, orange bitter, eucalyptus, smoke aroma.

Let's Be Franklin £20

'FDR', the 32nd President of the United States, honeymooned at Brown's and, just like us, held cocktail hour sacred. A base of rich Cuban rum lends a naturally spirited note to this potent experience.

Eminente Reserva 7 yrs rum, Angostura bitters, lime juice, orgeat.

The Milky Way £22

Looking back to the first Forte offering, a Milk Bar in Scotland. Our homage to Lord Charles Forte is a nod to his meteoric rise and legacy, combining a dash of Scotch whisky with almond milk infused with Italian flavours of strawberry or mint. Salute and slàinte!

Hoxton gin, Ardbeg whisky, Tio Pepe sherry, coconut syrup, almond milk, crème de menthe or strawberry cordial.

Si, Maestro £23

Tickle your senses with this love letter to the Italian coast by the renowned Salvatore Calabrese. A teasing twist on his famous Breakfast Martini. Mingling cognac with Amalfi lemon marmalade notes, this is a sophisticated number worthy of the Maestro.

Hennessy VSOP, Acqua Bianca, orange juice, Amalfi lemon marmalade.

Don't Be Greedy £13

The dame of crime, Agatha Christie, was one of our greatest Afternoon Tea fans, and based one of her books on Brown's. This mocktail with a mission combines layers of pure fig syrup and apple with a zippy fizz of jasmine and peach.

Fig purée, apple juice, lemon juice, Earl Grey and vanilla tea, orange juice, egg white.

Menswear advertisement, 1961

Historical and noteworthy

The Saint George £22

In honour of our 185th anniversary, delve into the decadence of our illustrious past with this elegant cocktail, flavoured with bittersweet Amaro Lucano. Italy's famed liqueur was developed from a secret family recipe, concocted by Cavalier Pasquale Vena in 1894.

Awamori Tsuchi, Amaro Lucano, Mancino vermouth rosso amaranto, Grand Marnier, orange juice, cherry air.

Speechless £23

You'll be all starry eyed with this sparkling gold cocktail, where warming spice notes are infused with the citrusy zest of Chinotto. Join us to celebrate the opulence of the BAFTAs and its first ceremony, held at Brown's in 1947.

Patrón Reposado tequila, lemon juice, Muyu Chinotto liqueur, Ruinart Brut Champagne.

Harry's Star £22

A seductive White Lady-inspired cocktail in honour of the most famous bartender of the Jazz Age, Harry Craddock, who was at the helm of the bar at Brown's in the 1940s. Be all the rage as we enter the new 'Roaring '20s' with this jaunty, spicy tipple.

Rivington Dry Gin, caramelised orange and seaweed syrup, Muyu Vetiver Gris liqueur, lemon juice.

The First Call £23

A playful nod to Alexander Graham Bell who famously invented the 'blower' and made the first call from it at Brown's. Punchy Tulchan Gin spiced with pistachio pesto is at the heart of this Instagram-ready cocktail.

Tulchan Gin re-distilled with pistachio paste, lime juice, pandan and coconut syrup, Better's Bitter, white port.

The Virgin Falls £13

Make a splash with this buzzing mocktail, in honour of the Niagara Commission meeting at Brown's in 1890. Non-alcoholic bubbles combined with an equally virtuous spirit and a spicy oomph of agave syrup makes this a stimulatingly refreshing tonic.

EDI Endorphin Spirited Euphoria, lemon juice, spicy agave, non-alcoholic sparkling wine.
