THE CHURCHILL BAR

The Churchill Bar & Terrace has been designed with a young Winston Churchill and his beloved wife Clementine in mind. The design recognises, by way of contemporary touches, references to Churchill's life in photography and art, in love and lifestyle and in travel and animals. We believe the ambience and atmosphere recreates the feeling of a space that Sir Winston and Baroness Spencer-Churchill would use if they were alive today.

Our elegant library, curated by local specialist booksellers Daunt Books, includes a range of literature on modern subjects that a young Churchill and Clementine would have found fascinating – art, travel, politics, gardening, fashion and so forth. Please feel free to leaf through the books as you wish, we hope you find them as fascinating as we do.

Look out for Jock, Rufus and Pig – the locally knitted animals that can be found on the bookshelves and are used to emulate Churchill's use of his children's toys as bookmarks in his library at Chartwell. The animals reflect the signature pictures Sir Winston and Clementine used when writing love letters, Sir Winston was a dog (or often a pig) and Clementine, a cat.

Our private, seasonally-themed terrace features a specially commissioned life-size bronze of a young Sir Winston Churchill entitled "In Conversation". Cast by renowned sculptor Lawrence Holofcener who also created "Allies", the much loved statue of Sir Winston and Franklin D Roosevelt on a bench on Bond Street. We encourage you to enjoy a cocktail or two with 'Britain's Greatest Briton'.

Goodnight my sweet darling Clemmie, with all my fondest love to you & the P.K.

Your loving husband
