

THE OARSMAN

WINE LIST

It might appear a bit bonkers, but that's half the fun, there are over 300 wines, more than 200 grape varieties from forty plus countries, the quandary is, if we don't list them, you can't try them – so let's be a bit bonkers.

All are farmed sustainably, most organically a good deal biodynamically and much with minimal intervention.

They've been grouped by style which we hope is helpful, and added notes on grape varieties where it's not obvious.

The list by the glass will change every week and if there is something you'd like by the 500ml carafe (except the old and rare), we'll open it – on a simple equation of $\frac{2}{3}$ the full list price.

So, on the board you'll see a new 250ml opportunity available and look out for additional wines being opened live on the black boards.

Oz, Sherries & Flor

A section devoted to the great wines of sherry, some aged under the veil of yeast called "flor" (these are lighter and saltier) whereas others undergo a more oxidative ageing protocol (these are deeper and have a pronounced nutty quality as well as distinctive umami character). The lighter wines pair well with seafood and oily fish, whilst the more complex ones go excellently with offal, beef and mature hard cheeses. Palomino is the grape here.

“Garrigue, Maquis and Fynbos...”

Wines that hail from “the sun-baked, cicada-loud, ageless country of scrub and terraced hills... the archetypal Mediterranean landscape of rock & olive, wild thyme, vineyards, light”. This is the garrigue or maquis, and fynbos a scrubland of rock, forest and wild herbs, one that inflects the wines with their unique aromas and flavours.

"The Amber Revolution"

Otherwise known as skin contact and also "orange wine". Put simply, these are wines made from white grape varieties, but macerated on their skins like reds. They have colour (from gold to pink, bronze and amber) and complex layers with lots of texture and even tannins. The most versatile of all food wines.

Classy & Classic Burgundy

"It {Pinot Noir} can only grow in these really specific, little, tucked away corners of the world. And, and only the most patient and nurturing of growers can do it, really. Only somebody who really takes the time... to understand Pinot's potential... can then coax it into its fullest expression."- Sideways - Part 1

Maison Cazottes, Tarn, France

Laurent Cazotte expresses the very essence of fruit and blossom he harvests from his organically farmed land, all completely manually. The wild quince picked from hedgerows when yellow, chopped and macerated in quince marc.

72 different variety of tomatoes are grown, hand-picked and chopped, are then macerated in his organic brandy over time, where the magic happens makes an interesting aperitif.
