

PRE-PROHIBITION

1915: PISCO SOUR 15.50

singani 63, rinquinquin peach aperitif, all spice pimento dram, lime juice, sugar, foam

The Pisco Sour was invented in Lima by American bartender Victor Vaughen Morris in 1915, quickly becoming Peru's definitive cocktail. Traditionally built from pisco, lime, sugar, and egg white, it balanced bright acidity with silky texture. Our twist reinterprets this classic for a contemporary palate: Rinquinquin peach aperitif adds a subtle fruit warmth, while All Spice Pimento Dram introduces aromatic depth. The result preserves the original's vibrant citrus backbone and clean balance but leans toward dryness and layered flavour, creating a modern, nuanced expression of a century-old South American favourite. but adds a subtle coffee infusion for a modern depth, perfect for the theatre-goer's aperitif.

1901: BRONX 14.75

tanqueray gin, sweet & dry vermouths,
blood orange juice

A refreshing, dynamic gin-based serve embodying New York's vibrant cocktail culture, the Bronx was created by Johnnie Solon at New York's legendary Waldorf Astoria hotel around 1906 and named after the Bronx Zoo – it was also allegedly the first to use fresh fruit juice.

1918: GRASSHOPPER 15.50

axia extra dry mastiha, cacao nibs, crème de menthe verte, cream

An indulgent after-dinner drink with a storied past, the Grasshopper is said to have been created in 1918 by Philibert Guichet of Tujague's, a historic bar in New Orleans and gained widespread popularity in the 1950s and '60s. Our unique twist features Mastiha-infused cacao nibs, adding a rich, aromatic depth to this classic drink.

PROHIBITION

1921: BETWEEN THE SHEETS 14.75

light rum blend, hennessy vsop, triple sec, lemon juice, sugar

The origin of the cocktail is usually credited to Harry MacElhone at Harry's New York Bar in Paris in the 1930s as a derivative of the sidecar. However, competing theories exist that claim the cocktail was created at The Berkeley in approximately 1921.

1930: HOTEL NACIONAL 14.75

light rum blend, apricot brandy, pineapple juice, lime juice, sugar

Taking the namesake of The Hotel Nacional Du Cuba in Havana, which opened its doors during the depths of American Prohibition, this cocktail was popularised in pre-revolution Cuba and has seen a recent resurgence amongst cocktail aficionados. A fruity take on the classic Daiquiri, The Hotel Nacional offers tropical flavours with a dry finish.

1930: CORPSE REVIVER NO. 1 16.00

adrien camut óyo calvados, cocchi barolo chinato, plum sake

Dating back to the 1870s, Corpse Revivers were often prescribed as a hangover cure. The No.1 is another classic recipe from Harry Craddock at The Savoy's American Bar, which he suggests should "be taken before 11 a.m., or whenever steam and energy are needed".

POST PROHIBITION

1934: SWIZZLE 15.00

green chartreuse, pineapple juice,
lime juice, falernum, sugar

The Swizzle is a Caribbean cocktail style defined by crushed ice, rapid dilution, and aromatic intensity, traditionally built with rum, citrus, and pineapple. Following the repeal of Prohibition in 1934, long, ice-heavy drinks returned to hotels and cocktail bars, and the Swizzle became a showcase for expressive spirits and tropical structure. In this twist, green Chartreuse replaces rum, its herbal complexity balanced by pineapple, lime, and falernum. A post-Prohibition expression driven by freshness, and controlled dilution.

1941: MOSCOW MULE 15.00

ketel one vodka, spiced orange cordial, lime juice, ginger beer, bitters

Created in 1941 on Sunset Boulevard at the Cock N' Bull by bartender Wes Price, in an era where gin and whisky proved more popular with Americans, the Moscow Mule was made with the intention of using up stagnant stock of Smirnoff vodka and ginger beer. Later, the iconic copper mug was introduced by Sophie Berezinski - a Russian who immigrated to America and whose father owned the Moscow Copper Co. - as a suggestion to help keep the drink colder for longer.

1951: DIAMONDBACK 15.50

high west double rye, calvados, sweet vermouth, yellow chartreuse, orange bitters

Adapted from Ted Saucier's 1951 "Bottoms Up" book, in which the author calls for two parts rye whiskey, one part applejack, and one part yellow Chartreuse, the Diamondback Lounge Cocktail - properly named - was the signature drink at the Diamondback Lounge bar within the Lord Baltimore Hotel. This historic 22-story hotel, which opened in 1928, still graces the skyline of Baltimore, Maryland to this day.

BAR AMERICAN CLASSICS

1884: TURF CLUB 15.75

plymouth navy strength, dry vermouth, maraschino liqueur, absinthe, orange bitters

Taking its name from the famous New York City gentleman's club, the Turf Club was perhaps the first cocktail to combine gin with vermouth, predating the Martini. First codified in George Winter's 1884 guide: 'How to Mix Drinks-Bar Keeper's Handbook', the Turf Club is a considered alternative for the Martini drinker.

1930: AIRMAIL 16.00

havana club 7yr rum, champagne, lime juice, honey

Regular Airmail service began in Cuba in 1930, and that same year Bacardi rum featured the Airmail cocktail in a promotional pamphlet, complete with an actual postal stamp as a garnish!

1948: ARMY & NAVY 14.75

no.3 gin, lime juice, orgeat, campari

First published in David Embury's 1948 book 'The Fine Art of Mixing Drinks', the Army & Navy cocktail most likely originated at the Washington D.C. club bearing its name. A classic gin daisy that is made richer with the addition of orgeat, an almond and orange blossom flavoured syrup. In our version we swap out the bitterness from Angostura and replace it with a dash of Campari for colour and bitter citrus notes.

BAR AMERICAIN GRAND CLASSICS

BEES KNEES 28.00

prince explorer monaco gin, lemon juice,
orange blossom honey

One strong claim credits Austrian-born bartender Frank Meier, first head bartender at the Café Parisian at the Ritz Hotel in Paris from 1921, who later printed a Bee's Knees recipe in his 1936 book The Artistry of Mixing Drinks.

CADILAC MARGARITA 36.00

don julio 1942 anejo tequila, grand marnier, agave, olive brine, lime, lavender

The Cadillac Margarita is a premium evolution of the traditional margarita, distinguished by the use of top-shelf orange liqueur. Our twist uses Don Julio 1942 Tequila, Grand Marnier, olive brine, and lavender to follow the original's framework while introducing a modern perspective on balance and structure.

ROB ROY 36.00

johnnie walker blue, cocchi di torino, angostura bitters

Created in 1894 at New York's Waldorf Astoria, the Rob Roy was named after the Scottish folk hero and was a Manhattan made with Scotch instead of bourbon. This version uses Johnnie Walker Blue and Cocchi di Torino to maintain the classic balance of whisky, vermouth, and bitters, presenting a straightforward, historically rooted interpretation of the iconic cocktail.

TINY COCKTAILS

A curated journey through the cocktail's storied past.

THE MARTINI TRILOGY 22.00

Enjoy a taste with a mini flight, offering a small serve of each martini creating a drinkable journey through history

MANHATTAN 8.00

First mixed in the 1860s, the Manhattan was a breakthrough in cocktail craft - one of the earliest to combine a base spirit (rye) with vermouth and bitters. As chronicled in Imbibel, this template defined the new cocktail order and opened the door to experimentation.

MARTINEZ 8.00

Made with gin (often sweetened Old Tom), sweet vermouth, maraschino liqueur, and bitters, The Martinez first appeared in late 19th-century bar manuals. This complex, aromatic mix bridged the robust Manhattan and the sharper, more restrained Dry Martini - setting the gin-and-vermouth formula in motion.

DRY MARTINI 8.00

By the early 1900s, cocktail tastes had shifted toward drier, more refined profiles. The dry martini - with its lean mix of London dry gin and dry vermouth - emerged as the modern evolution of the earlier vermouth-based formulas. Simple, elegant, and endlessly adaptable, it became the defining cocktail of the 20th century, beloved in speakeasies, on silver screens, and in every serious bar that followed.
