

THE JAM CUPBOARD SPECIAL OFFERS

	Half	Pint
Pilsner Urquell (Czech Republic)	£3.00	£5.50

On the 11th November 1842, the Pilsen brewers took their first sip of the world's first golden beer. This was no longer the dull, dark beer of previous centuries and earlier brewers, but a beer that marked the drawing of a new era, a beer that would change the world. They had fashioned gold.

It is called the "model of meter" among beers. All other pilsners are a better or worse attempts to copy the original - the first ever Pilsner Urquell. Its unparalleled exceptionality is guaranteed by the same recipe dating from 1842.
