

A photograph of a wedding reception held in a large, vaulted brick hall. A large, modern chandelier made of many small, white, circular discs hangs from the ceiling. A large crowd of guests is gathered in the center of the room, looking towards the back where a musician is playing. The room has high, arched brick walls and a large arched window in the background. The text "Weddings at 100 Barrington 2025" is overlaid in white. A white button with the text "Brochure here" is also visible.
