“ The venue was an easy choice for it’s stunning grounds, beautifully decorated accommodation, delicious food and drink. But even more than that, we received excellent service. ”

Sarah & Huw

A rustic outdoor kitchen scene featuring a large, built-in wood-burning oven. The oven is constructed from dark wood and has a large, dark, conical chimney on top. Inside the oven, several whole chickens are roasting on spits over a fire. The oven is set into a wall made of vertical wooden planks. Above the oven, a string of warm white lights is strung across the frame. In front of the oven is a long wooden countertop. On the countertop, there are several bowls of fresh vegetables, including tomatoes, cucumbers, and leafy greens. There are also some small pots and a cutting board. Below the countertop, there is a built-in wooden rack filled with neatly stacked firewood. The entire scene is set outdoors, with a wooden structure visible in the background.
